
HOUSTON HOME BUYER GUIDE

Hockley: before you buy

Compare Hockley homes and acreage, including utilities, deed restrictions, district boundaries, and routes along Highway 290.

Compare the properties

Compare homes and acreage, including utility service, deed restrictions, and nearby development plans.

Compare single-family homes, larger-lot properties, and land. Check restrictions, utilities, and the cost of any planned improvements.

A few communities to compare

Dellrose, Stone Creek Ranch, Marvida (Cypress comparison). Compare the current homes and documents for each address; community names alone do not establish costs, school assignments, or what can be built.

Try the route you will use

Routes to compare include Highway 290 and the Grand Parkway. Test the drive from the specific home to your regular destination, including its entrance or parking garage, at the hours you expect to travel. Traffic and roadwork can change the result.

Bring these local questions

1. How are water and sewer services provided, and what needs inspection?
2. What's the actual lot size and what zoning permits?
3. What development is planned or underway nearby?
4. What's the flood and drainage history?
5. How does this fit your long-term hold or use plan?

BEFORE YOU MAKE AN OFFER

Check the exact address

Costs and comparable sales

Review recent sales, the proposed loan terms, current taxes, insurance quotes, HOA dues, and any MUD or other district charges. Keep repairs and cash reserves in the budget.

School assignments

If relevant to your search, confirm the district and assigned campuses directly with the district for the exact address. Use txschools.gov for district and campus information. Ask about boundary changes and enrollment; contact private schools separately.

Flood history and condition

Check current FEMA and local flood maps, available disclosures and claim history, and property-specific insurance quotes. A mapped zone does not rule out flooding. Arrange inspections and ask qualified specialists about issues outside a general inspection.

Restrictions, permits, and utilities

Review recorded restrictions, the survey, easements, HOA documents, and the applicable municipality. Confirm utility service, permits, and any restrictions affecting rentals, additions, or a future build.

Contract dates and financing

Review the written showing or representation agreement before proceeding. A pre-approval letter is not a guaranteed loan. Any option period is negotiated; confirm the fee, payment deadline, and termination-notice deadline in the contract.
